COLONEL SELLERS AGAIN!

President White Burley Hawkins Makes Another "Proc."

For the benefit of those who are fond of guessing, or who believe all that they hear, or who don't believe anything that they hear and only half what they see, the following is given room in THE LEDGER—

LEXINGTON, Ky., August 28th.—W. B. Hawkins, President of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Company of Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, who was organized to control the output of the tobacco and fight the Trust, announced at that unless the deficit in the amount to be subscribed was forthcoming by September the Company would be disbanded.

Growers have been asked to subscribe $250,000 worth of stock. The amount so far received does not exceed half this amount. The promoters feel that unless they can rely upon this support by September 1st it will be unwise to undertake the great work of preparing to handle the crop, which must be completed within the next two months.

Last year efforts to get the financial support required were continued until January, and many million pounds held until that time. This year's contracts have been made to expire November 1st provided the Company had not taken the tobacco, and the movement will be abandoned Friday unless all the stock is subscribed.

MANY RELATIVES HERE

William E. Grimes, Once of this City, Died Near Cincinnati

Mr. W. E. Grimes, who some twenty years ago engaged in the furniture business in this city, first occupying the corner now owned by Hon. R. B. Lovel and later moving to the Cox Building adjoining THE LEDGER, died Saturday at his home in Winston Place, Cincinnati, aged 87.

He is survived by a widow and one son, Dr. Fletcher Grimes.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimes were the parents of the late "Joe Grimes," known all over the United States and a large part of Europe, on account of his extraordinary size and weight, the latter over 500 lbs. It was during their residence in this city that Joe began to develop.

Mr. Grimes was a tall but slenderly built man, measuring over six feet and weighing less than 200 pounds. His wife is also of slender build, and they were never able to account for their son's extraordinary weight.

He leaves several relatives in this city and a large number in neighboring counties in Ohio.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from his late home, conducted by the Rev. J. P. Whitehead of the First Presbyterian Church.

TEACHERS INSTITUTE

Pedagogues Enrolled and Proceedings of First Day's Session

The Mason County Teachers' Institute was called to order yesterday morning at 10:30 at the Courthouse by Superintendent C. D. Wells.

After some general remarks Mr. Wells called the teachers' attention to the fact that the Official Program and Syllabus of the state would be followed during the week with the changes which he had made.

Prof. W. T. Berry was elected Secretary. The following teachers were enrolled—Mrs. Lida Calvert, Helena Station. Elizabeth Murphy, Charleston Bottom. Jacova Bacon, Tuckahoe. Della Goodwin, Mary E. Dickson, Springdale. Ben Kidwell, Kittie McDowell, Sardis. C. J. Roberts, Shannon.

Eva Williams, Tangletown. Herman Donovan, Northfork. R. J. Sausley, Peed. Truman T. Hill, Martha Hall, Germantown. Ollie M. Bramel, Paul Coryell, Orangeburg. Alma Galbreath, Mayslick. Mrs. M. P. Hickman, Flora Stairs, Dover. Minnie B. Dobyne, Anna Greenlee, Minerva. A. G. Stewart, Julia Worthington, Murphysville.

Belle Golling, Jessie O. Yancey, Linda Tuggie, Laura Crosby, Geneva Peirce, Mary Rubenacker, Daisy G. Greenwood, Mae Roberts, Jessie E. Allison, Nannie Tucker, Elizabeth Cartmell, Clarence Martin, W. P. King, J. A. Nash, Henry L. Beckett, G. H. Turnipseed, W. T. Berry, Florence Wilson, Anna F. Ball, Maysville.

Miss Charity Dye of Indianapolis was introduced by Mr. Wells, who, in a few happy words, expressed her pleasure in being permitted to be associated this week with the teachers of her old home county in their noble work.

Prof. R. M. Shipp was then introduced, which, by the way, was largely a matter of formality, as Prof. Shipp has on several occasions in the last few years been an instructor in the Mason County Institute and really needed no introduction.

Prof. Shipp, in a speech of about thirty minutes, very plainly outlined what he expected to do during the week and what he expected of each teacher who was present for the purpose of helping and being helped.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

In the afternoon additional teachers enrolled were: Sallie Burrows, Eleanor P. Wallace, Allie Wells and Ella B. Metcalfe, Maysville; Mattie Clift, Minerva; Octavia Cassidy, Flemingsburg; Nancy Kennan and Fannie Roe, Orangeburg.

The afternoon session began at 1:30 with the singing of "I Will Follow On."

Prof. Shipp gave a very pleasing talk on the importance of little things, with practical illustrations on the blackboard.

Miss Dye then spoke interestingly on "Story Telling," showing its place in the scheme of education in such a way as to leave no doubt in the mind of a single person present that she was perfectly at home with the subject.

A short recess was taken, the session reopening with the song, "To the Work."

Miss McDowell, Miss Yancey and Miss Goodwin presented some thoughts on "Reading."

The subject was then taken up by Prof. Shipp, who, in a very thought-provoking manner, handled some phases of this all-important subject.

Mr. Vincent, the representative of the Southern School Journal and a number of other educational papers, was given an opportunity to present the claims of his publications.

The Institute then adjourned to re-convene at 9 o'clock this morning.

Rev. R. E. Moss and George Schwartz were among the visitors during the afternoon.

"Is $10,000 too much for a little finger?" is to be decided by the Jury in a Cincinnati Court. Well, it's cheap enough if it's hooked onto a $100,000 young lady.

CHARLES NEALIS, the fellow who stole the Bible from the Pulpit of the Baptist Church at Foxport a year or so since, and who has twice escaped from the Fleming Jail by digging through a brick wall, seems merely to have followed the injunctions laid down in the stolen book—

"Son of man, dig now in the wall."—Ezek. viii-8.
"Dig thou through the wall."—Ezek. xii-5.

ALL railroads operating in Kentucky are charged in a complaint filed at Frankfort with the State Railroad Commission with "excessive and extortionate" local freight rates. Give it to 'em; the railroads are just plain robbers! Why, it now actually costs 25 cents to get a lot of freight from Cincinnati over the C. and O. for which the generous steamboats formerly charged only $1.

A DISPATCH from Carlisle says efforts are being made to induce Hon. G. R. KELLER, Editor of The Carlisle Mercury, to make the race for County Judge of Nicholas on the Independent ticket against Dr. W. H. McNEW, Editor of The Carlisle Democrat. If Mr. KELLER keeps on exposin' the doings of Judge McNEW, as shown by entries in the official records, no man in the county will be more familiar with the books—and none would make a more conscientious or better Judge.

THERE are none so blind as those who will not see—and the Russians obstinately refuse to see. Military and naval disasters unparalleled have not opened their eyes. But if Russia will not yield in conference, it is only a question of time and of disaster until she does yield. Japan still possesses the ability to make peace—it lies in the mailed fist of OYAMA.

Just as though Lord Mayor DUNNE hadn't had enough trouble with the teamsters strike riots in Chicago, the job printers of that city are on the eve of eruption. They are at present getting $19.50 for a nine-hour-day—54 hours per week. They demand the same pay for an eight-hour-day—48 hours work per week. The "bosses" say that the prevailing prices for printing will not justify the change, and as they can't add the increased pay to their customers' bills, the compositors will have to yield—or quit. It promises a pretty fight, as both sides are armed with big bank accounts; but, after all, the winners will be big losers.

Political Pickings

THE AMERICAN VIEW.

Crittenden Record.

Honest men everywhere believe not in discarding the secret ballot system for the old viva voce system of voting, but rather to improve the secret system wherever it is in any way deficient. The secret booth where man stands alone with his conscience and God will come nearer expressing the true will of all voters than the old system. The secret system in Kentucky was considered all right until it was corrupted by the new methods of counting. The party that corrupted it is the party that modified its changes, and is still the dissatisfied party. Dissatisfied today not so much with the system and with itself, oh, no! but dissatisfied because its honest men—men who believe in fair and honest government, but who have been denied voice and party representation have become a boomerang to thwart the selfish principles of the Democratic regulars who seek to perpetuate themselves in power. In all counties and districts where such conditions prevail the regulars are clamoring for the old viva voce system of voting. In Livingston county these conditions exist, and the regular party organs are asking the voters to vote for the return to the old system. The reason is obvious. Let us keep the secret ballot, and may the expressed will of the voters so be this fall.

Fall Spices

Good spices are desirable at any time; they are necessary now, for the results of your care and labor during the canning and pickling season may depend upon them. We buy spices as carefully as the most delicate drugs, and we have results to show for our caution.

Grocers and other dealers have no means of knowing whether or not their spices are pure. We have.

Our Spices go farther and give better results and hence would be cheapest if our prices were higher, which they are not.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years.

You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man.

Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation. Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

Lived Near General Grant

PERSONAL NARRATIVE

Chicago Man's Recollections of the Great Soldier

How He Rose From a Quiet Farm to Enduring Fame

"General Ulysses S. Grant's metamorphosis from an easy-going farmer to one of the world's most brilliant and dashing geniuses of the battlefield, was the most remarkable thing I ever heard of or saw in all my life," said J. H. Murrin of Chicago, "and one that will keep the brains of the psychologists busy for many a day. It was my misfortune never to have spoken to the famous General, although I saw him every day for several years, on his way to town and on his way home again. It was around 1858 that Grant was living on the farm of his father-in-law, General Dent, on the Gravois road, about twelve miles from St. Louis. I lived on the adjoining farm, yet saw little if any of his family, for they were all a remarkably quiet and self-contained family, little given over to society or even neighborly intercourse.

"A few years before, Grant had resigned from the Army, where he was, I believe, a Lieutenant, to become a tanner in a factory in Galena, Ill. He gave this up and went to his father-in-law's farm to live. As the General was getting old, Grant took charge of the farm and did all the work on it. When the season for raising vegetables was over he used to chop down trees and carry the wood to town. It was then that I used to see him, as he drove his pair of white horses. He was never seen without a big, black cigar in his teeth, and he wore a beard, as his later pictures show him.

"He was known among the townspeople as a quiet, serious and very honest man. In fact, he was honest to a fault. At that time he seemed to have gotten out of his element and acted as though he were conscious of the fact that the life he led was one ill-suited to an army officer accustomed to activity and bustle. I can hardly express the thing, so different did he appear in later years. He had, one might say, lost his grip on the world, and while feeling himself gradually slipping away, yet was powerless to check his fall. He did make an attempt to get away from the deadening work at the farm, and on one of his trips to the city he applied for a position at one of the large firms in St. Louis as a clerk in their office. He was refused the position on account of his age, as he was over thirty-five at that time. It was very fortunate for him that his application was rejected, for had he obtained the position it is probable that he would have been so pleased with the change that he would not have entered the Army when the war broke out. But that is problematical, and destiny had evidently fitted him for a hero, for everything in his odd life from his entrance at West Point to his joining the Army for the second time pointed to what Fate had decided for him.

"When the War broke out he went to President Lincoln and asked for a commission. He was directed to Governor Yates of Illinois, who made him Colonel of a Regiment. From then his rapid promotions, until he became the commander of all the Federal forces, is well known. And the most peculiar part is that the people of that part of the state, who had known the Grant family, never tired of wondering at the marvelous success of that sober, grave man who was polite and dignified, yet who was so quiet and reserved that no one would have ever suspected that in him burned the fires of genius. It is doubtful whether he himself knew of the talent that he possessed for military strategy. He was known as a very dull scolar even at West Point, where he had never distinguished himself in the least.

"One of the finest traits of his character was shown after the War was over, and that trait was gratitude. His family was well reared, though he was in poor circumstances when he lived on the farm. His father-in-law's farm, while the second to the largest in the neighborhood was not very productive, and there was a large mortgage on it that threatened to drive them from its shelter. During the War Grant saved nearly all of his salary, and when the War was over he immediately returned to the old place and paid off the entire debt. He also stocked the farm with all necessary implements to make it one of the best in that district. You can imagine with what reverence people spoke of him after that show of gratitude.

"But, after all, the thing that recalls him most to my mind is that unparalleled change from a farmer to a General. It seems almost absurd to connect the Grant of the Gravois road with the Grant who stood triumphant at Appomattox, and yet he is the same man in flesh, though entirely different in mind and spirit. This is a phase of his character that I have never seen brought out in any other story of his life, yet it is remarkable to one who knows of him even as little as I."

Richard Watts and Julia Warfield, colored, were granted license to marry yesterday.

WILL BE HEARD

Judge Whitaker Will Try a Salty Case This Afternoon

"In his daily rounds an Officer is frequently brought face to face with the most wretched depravity and inhuman treatment on the part of some husbands toward their wives and children," remarked Officer Ryan yesterday in discussing a case that comes up this afternoon in the Police Court for trial.

"In this instance," the Officer continued, "I was appealed to by the injured and neglected wife to aid her in arresting and turning her husband from the evil course he is now pursuing."

According to the wife's story the man is infatuated with and in the toils of a woman of the under world, and notwithstanding he earns good money, instead of applying it to the use of his family, with the exception of a couple of dollars, he squanders it upon this wanton and degraded creature.

They were arrested at the home of Martha Clay, colored, a resident of Catholic alley.

It's the naphtha in EASY TASK soap that makes it an easy task to wash woolens, blankets, etc. Little rubbing is required; no boiling; no steaming hot suds with the disagreeable odors that arise when yellow soap is used. EASY TASK is a hard, slow-wasting white soap which lathers freely in either hot or cold water. It is the best for all laundry and kitchen uses. 5c at all grocers'.

MASON'S POOR SHOWING

Small Amounts of Wheat Received Up to This Time

There was a time in the history of this city when the wheat received by the grain merchants here ran into the several hundred thousands of bushels in a season. There has been a decided falling off in late years both in quality and quantity. The number of bushels received so far this year are reported as follows—

Winter & Everett	20,000
Rains Bros.	20,000
Parker & Mitchell	9,000
Richard A. Carr	20,000

Messrs. Joseph A. Dodson and E. B. Powell are also buyers. The Mason county crop was short and inferior in quality. Prices ranged from 25 to 80 cents per bushel.

CUTICURA REMEDIES WORK WONDERS.

"As I was a sufferer with eczema I write to tell you what a great friend I found in Cuticura Remedies. In six months I had tried three doctors, but did not get any better. It was on my body and on my face so thick that I could hardly put a pin on me without touching eczema. My face was covered, my eyebrows came out, and then it got in my eye. I then went to another doctor. He asked me what I was taking for it, and I told him Cuticura. He said that was a very good thing, but that he thought that my face would be marked for life. But Cuticura did its work and my face is now just as clear as it ever was. "My brother-in-law told me about the wonderful Cuticura remedies. I took his advice and got the Ointment, Soap, and Resolvent. I washed with the Cuticura Soap and then applied the Ointment, and took Cuticura Resolvent as directed. In a short time my face began to get better, and when I had taken one bottle of Resolvent I could brush the scales off my face like a powder. When I had taken four bottles my face was as clear as ever. "I told all my friends about my remarkable cure. I feel so thankful I want everybody far and wide to know what Cuticura can do. It is a sure cure for eczema. (signed) Mrs. Emma White, 641 Cherrier Place, Camden, N. J., April 25, 1905."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 7c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels, give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence, even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all Druggists.

A GREAT WEAPON

Maysville People Cannot Fail To Appreciate the Worth of It

Only one weapon
To fight backache—
The weapon that strikes the cause—
Doan's Kidney Pills reach the root;
Their work in Maysville proves it.
You read of cures made years ago,
And the cures were lasting cures.
Read the following:
Mrs. Mary Thomas, wife of J. A. Thomas, of 204 Limestone street, Maysville, Ky., says:
"I am only too pleased to confirm the statement I made in the spring of 1900 recommending Doan's Kidney Pills, after they had relieved me of backache and other symptoms of kidney trouble. I got them at J. Jan. Wood & Son's Drugstore. During the years that have elapsed since I made that statement I have had occasion to give Doan's Kidney Pills a further trial, and I have found that it requires only a few doses to ward off attacks of kidney trouble or to check them before they become serious. I can also point to the case of my boy, twelve years old, who at the time I first used Doan's Kidney Pills was troubled a great deal with weakness of the kidneys and could not control the secretions properly. I gave him Doan's Kidney Pills and he improved rapidly under the treatment. The relief he found has proved lasting, and from his experience and mine I am certainly warranted in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box.
